

Dear Families,

Welcome to our Walking with Jesus series!

“Come to me.” These words from Jesus have a gentle invitation in them. They are not burdensome. In fact, just the opposite. Jesus offers rest for those who come to Him, listen to His words, and walk with Him.

In the Walking with Jesus series, kids will explore four gospel accounts of Jesus working in the lives of those who came to Him because He offered what nothing else in this world can—forgiveness, healing, and compassion.

A man who couldn’t walk was brought to Jesus by friends. A woman who was rejected and known for her sins came to worship Jesus. A friend of Jesus discovered the best thing is just sitting at His feet and listening to Him. And Jesus commissioned all of His followers to remember that He is like no one else because of His death that brought forth a compassion and forgiveness that extends to us today and for all time.

We can come to Him. In a world that’s filled with distractions and disruptions, we can come to Jesus and simply walk with Him in relationship and be forever changed. Together, let’s discover that walking with Jesus isn’t following a specific set of rules or to-do lists; it is surrendering ourselves as we sit at His feet and worship our King.

Read the following words from our upcoming Word of Wonder:

Come to me, all you who are tired and are carrying heavy loads. I will give you rest. —Matthew 11:28

Are you ready to begin your walk with Jesus? Let’s come to Him together.
